Pebble linoleum

Linoleum, made from natural materials, is a stylish choice for table surfaces, bringing warmth and comfort to the space. The matt surface of the material reduces the visibility of fingerprints and the soft feel increases comfort. However, linoleum is not recommended for use where the table top is subject to heavy load or for stackable tables, for example, due to its flexible surface. There may be some individual colour variations between different batches and the surface may react to UV radiation from the sun.
